

IROQUOIS PAVING EMPLOYEES COMPLETE FIRST AID & CPR/AED TRAINING

DATE: MARCH 12, 2010

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

WATSEKA, ILLINOIS— Twenty employees from Iroquois Paving Corporation in Watseka recently completed the American Heart Association’s First Aid and CPR/AED training provided by Iroquois Memorial Hospital. The lead instructor was LouWonna Snodgrass, IMH’s longtime Employee Health and Infection Prevention Nurse. Assisting her were Paulette Harkins and Terri Fanning. According to Snodgrass, “The group did an excellent job. They take safety very seriously at Iroquois Paving and also understand the importance of being prepared for any emergency situation that may occur.” Coordinating the training for the employees was Ted Horner, Safety Manager at Iroquois Paving Corporation.

Completing the class were front row (lt-rt) Kerwin Laurie (New Lennox), Ted Le Fabre (Bourbonnais), Danny Sullivan (Crown Point, Ind), Terry Sullivan (Cedar Lake, Ind), Ray Marschner (Essex), Ben Smith (Stockland) and Mike Dixon (Watsoka). Standing (lt-rt) Kyle Cluver (Watsoka), Ken Torrez (Chicago), Nick Tincher (Watsoka), Kyle Mathewson (Watsoka), Todd Myers (Watsoka), Eric Gaus (Herscher), Joe Lamb, (Bloomington), Brian Parting (Buckingham), Dennis Foreman (Watsoka), Rico Berrones (Momence), Eric Davenport (Watsoka), Steve Schunke (Gilman) and Jason Schurr (Chebanse).